BIOGRAPHY

After graduation from Tama I attended Cornell College and married Suzi Lindquist my senior year; because I loved her, not so she could work until graduate school was completed at Stanford. We started our work career with AMOCO in Lubbock, TX ... at the city limits of Lubbock we stopped so our dog Sugar, Suzi & I could kneel next to the car and pray, "Lord, please let us know what we have done wrong!"

Our first son was born in Lubbock ... next we opened the Houston office of EG&G to serve the oil & gas industry ... our second son and our daughter were born in Houston ... living in the same house for 34 years allowed us to be an active part of the local community as our church, schools and little league were located in a two mile radius ... it was like a small town with the advantages of a big city ... I was in the oil business in the world capital of the 'oil business'.

Suzi, our children & I loved our lives, we had fun and experienced so many good things ... far more than this country boy could have ever imagined ... I called Suzi from the Great Wall and from the hotel over looking the Nile River with the Pyramids in the background ... Tama High School prepared me for the academic and the athletic world.

September 16, 2005 marked the fifty-first year of our first date ... it was after the CR Roosevelt game ... do you remember that Friday night September 16, 1954 ... Tama beat high flying Roosevelt at the new Kingston Stadium in Cedar Rapids ... our roots are definitely 'The Tama High School' ... Sweet Sue is still calling the 'plays'!
